

R.C. Woman's Brother, Jap Prisoner, Dies

Ensign William H. Plant, USNR, a Japanese prisoner of war since his capture in Subic Bay in early 1942, is dead, a Navy Dept. telegram, Sunday informed his sister, Mrs. Cutler L. Brown of Redwood City.

Stationed on a PT boat in the Philippines, Ensign Plant was in the squadron commanded by Lieutenant Commander Bulkley

ENSIGN W. A. PLANT of "They Were Expendable" fame. During the Subic Bay raid in which the then 22-year-old officer's boat was sunk following daring action with the enemy, Ensign Plant was captured and taken to Manila where he was interned in a military camp until last fall.

Although the telegram declared details would follow, it is believed he died while en route to Japan or in a prison camp in the Jap homeland.

Ensign Plant, a graduate of Polytechnic High School in Long Beach, trained for navy service on the USS Prairie State and reported for duty at Cavite Naval Base in 1941. He was reported missing in action in January, 1942, and two years later, his status as a prisoner of war was confirmed.

During his internment at Manila, his older brother, Capt. James A. Plant, West Point graduate, was killed in July, 1942, when his B-25 medium bomber crashed in South Carolina.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Plant, reside in Long Beach, and are currently visiting at their daughter's home at 147 Birch St., Redwood City. Mrs. Brown is society editor of the Tribune.

The telegram, signed by Vice Adm. Randall Jacobs, chief of naval personnel, stated, "I deeply regret to inform you that your brother, Ensign William H. Plant, USNR, previously reported as prisoner of war, is now known to have lost his life while in the service of his country. Letter with available details will follow. Sincere sympathy is extended to you in your great loss."

Need for Garden Greens Doubled by Rationed Diet

For Quality Swiss Chard, Keep Leaves Under 10 Inches Tall.

No Victory garden should be without at least one row of "greens" this year. With strictly rationed meats and dairy products, the "green, leafy vegetables," as nutritionists call them, are the chief available source of the vitamins and minerals which everyone, especially children, needs.

Swiss chard, and New Zealand spinach are most popular for home gardens, because they bear all season long, and give a huge yield from small space. They are so easy to grow, they are often neglected, and served less often than they should be, because they become unattractive.

There is no excuse for allowing Swiss chard leaves to grow big and coarse. They are at their best when ten inches tall or less, and if they grow higher, should be ruthlessly cut, so that other and younger leaves can grow in their place. An entire plant can be cut off, two inches above the ground and will soon recover, and produce young leaves again.

New Zealand spinach may be difficult to germinate when sown in warm soil, as is usually advised. But sow it early, as soon as the soil can be prepared, and the cold weather will help break down the hard seed, with much better results.

Seeds are often dropped and spend the winter in the garden, germinating in the spring. Plants grow large enough to fill a bushel basket, so give them plenty of room. The tips of the stems are cut off to use.

Turnip greens are popular in the south, usually grown from a variety, such as Seven-top, which produces only greens, with no edible root.

The mustard family provides several varieties of greens. All the mustards are quick growing, and are much esteemed in the southern states.

Garden sorrel is a hardy perennial, which will live over winter and produces greens. It does best in light shade.

Kale is a fall and winter plant. Sown in June, the plants set out in rows two feet apart, they will produce leaves which stand freezing, and are improved in flavor by that experience. Collards are a member of the cabbage family which do not make heads, but leaves with cabbage flavor.

It is well for the home gardener to plant a small quantity of several kinds so that the family does not grow tired of greens. All produce a surprising quantity of food on small space.

Two Hurt Seriously In Knifing

Condition of Mrs. Bonnie Akers, 36, mother of four children, was somewhat improved and a repatriated Japanese war prisoner was still in a serious condition Monday following a family quarrel and knifing at 565 Hurlingame Ave., south of Redwood City, early Sunday morning.

William B. Akers 45, divorced husband of the injured woman, was booked at the county jail on an assault with a deadly weapon charge and investigation Sunday at 1:50 a.m. when he voluntarily surrendered himself to Night Jailor Everett Heagney.

Akers, the bloody pocket knife still in his hand, arrived at the San Mateo County Jail as deputy sheriffs were en route to the Akers home to investigate the altercation. Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter H. Moore today reconstructed the story from statements given by Akers, 16-year-old Georgia, his daughter, and two sailors who witnessed the knifing.

Akers, who recently returned from Washington where he worked as a carpenter, was in a bad mood, has been staying at the family home on Hurlingame Ave., he told Moore. Saturday night, accompanied by his ex-wife, he went to the Oceana Inn at 2635 El Camino Real.

There he met Cpl. Ira M. Pitts, 35, Dibble General Hospital patient, who spent three years in Bilid Prison Camp, and two sailors, he told Moore.

He had known the sailors, Monroe Cone and Roy Williams, for nearly three weeks, but the soldier was a stranger, he continued.

Leaving to pick up his daughter, Georgia, as the latter got off work at the telephone company in Redwood City, Akers returned to the bar to find Mrs. Akers and the three service men gone.

He found them at the home of Mrs. Akers' mother, Mrs. Dean Wolfenberger, on Humboldt Ave., and drove to the Akers home where they had several drinks, Moore said.

When Mrs. Akers mentioned going to bed and suggested Pitts stay at the home, Akers said, "He can't stay in this house while I'm here," his ex-wife countered he could, and Akers drew a knife, Moore continued.

With the two-and-a-half-inch blade, Akers slashed the woman twice across the abdomen, across her arms and throat.

The soldier suffered severe gashes across his abdomen and stab wounds in his chest.

The two sailors fled the scene and went to the sheriff's office where they were listed as material witnesses.

Akers, granted an interlocutory decree on Apr. 27, also left for the sheriff's office, while Mrs. Akers ran to a neighbor at 560 MacArthur St.

Pitts ran to Middlefield Rd. and Douglas St. where he asked Emil (Pop) Hansen for aid.

An ambulance summoned by the sheriff's office which had been called by Redwood City police, took the bleeding woman to the Palo Alto Hospital and Pitts to Dibble.

The accused man said he and his wife were sharing the house on a "platonic basis." He told Moore that letters from the daughter, Gloria, indicated all was not well at home "between the lines," and so he returned from the construction job.

The couple has a son, William Jr., 17, in the navy overseas, Geraldine, 13, and Barbara Jean, 3.

Let the Cucumbers Climb In Small Victory Gardens

Cucumbers can be grown even in small Victory gardens. If you let them follow their natural inclination and climb a fence, or similar support, to which they will cling with tendrils.

If you prefer to let them rest on the ground, there are varieties which make short vines, and others can be pinched off to keep them in bounds.

Difficulties in growing cucumbers spring mostly from their insect enemies, which are easily controlled. First, the young plants are usually attacked by the striped cucumber beetle, which chews the leaves. The ends of all vines must be dusted, preferably with a mixture of 1 pound of calcium arsenate to 10 pounds of gypsum; and since almost every day there is new growth which in turn must be protected, this will require constant attention. However, it only takes a few minutes to attend to it, and when the vines grow to several feet in length the danger is over.

Aphids are likely to breed on the under side of the leaves, and they must be dusted or sprayed with a contact insecticide, such as nicotine sulphate or pyrethrum. It is easy to do this when the vines are climbing.

All varieties of cucumbers will climb, even the largest. Seeds are usually planted in hills, 6 seeds to the hill, of which three are left to grow. They need fertile soil. A tablespoonful of plant food should be mixed thoroughly with the soil in each hill before sowing. To climb a fence or trellis they may be planted a foot apart in a row. Hills should be spaced at least three feet apart, unless it is intended to pinch off the ends of vines to confine their spread.

Because of the hazards which beset the cucumber in its early life, plants should not be thinned out until they have grown four inches. Water should be supplied frequently during dry weather, as the fruits of this plant have a high percentage of water.

Mrs. Henry Beeger Chosen Chairman of Hospital Group

Mrs. Henry Beeger of the community development section, Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, was elected chairman of the Hospital Survey Committee appointed by Mayor W. W. Hilton during the committee's organizational meeting Monday night in the council chambers of the city hall.

Mrs. Florence Donnelly was elected secretary of the group appointed to review further action and survey plans for establishing a hospital in Redwood City. Present at the meeting were Councilmen C. C. Armstrong and Carl Britschgi, representing the council; Graham Adams and Mrs. Beeger of the chamber of commerce; Mrs. Donnelly and Edwin Holmquist, representing residents of Redwood City, and Mayor W. W. Hilton and Mgr. E. W. Butler, of the chamber of commerce, ex-officio members of the committee. Councilman Floyd D. Granger and Evans A. Fletcher attended the meeting long enough to elect a chairman.

The group discussed the survey and recommendations of Dr. Thomas R. Ponton and Associates on a hospital for Redwood City at length.

Committee members also reviewed Senate Bill 456, passed recently by the state legislature, establishing hospital districts. The group decided to look further into the type of financing of hospitals as proposed by the bill and Dr. Ponton, while awaiting further information from Sacramento on the bill.

Mrs. Beeger appointed Councilmen Armstrong, Britschgi and Mr. Holmquist as a committee to investigate methods of financing hospitals, operating cost and other factors in communities of similar size to Redwood City.

The committee adjourned until Aug. 13.

Mrs. Akers Tells Pursuit

Mrs. Bonnie Akers, 36, victim of a family quarrel and knifing at her Redwood City home early Sunday morning, was able to make a statement Tuesday concerning the fracas to San Mateo County authorities, but her soldier fiance, Cpl. Ira M. Pitts, 35, was still in a serious condition at Dibble General Hospital.

Mrs. Akers repeated the story of the affair told by William B. Akers, 45, divorced husband of the wounded woman. Dep. Sheriff Jack O'Brien said.

She said her ex-husband attacked the repatriated Japanese war prisoner with the pocket knife and then slashed her. She fled from the house but was pursued by Akers who attacked her as she fell in a vacant lot.

Plane Service At San Carlos

Inauguration of a new, non-scheduled airplane service Tuesday between the San Carlos Airport and Los Angeles was announced by the Pacific Coast Airways.

Operating in daylight only, the airways will make the flight in less than three hours, non-stop, via the San Joaquin Valley route, Pres. K. W. Decker disclosed.

Decker, a Los Angeles manufacturer, reports that the airways fleet includes government licensed 4-place, Howards, Wacos, Stinsons and 2-place Luscombes, Ryans and Culvers. Transportation has been arranged between the Grand Central Air Terminal, Los Angeles, and downtown Los Angeles and the San Carlos Airport and San Francisco.

"We intend to operate our flights with the same precision as the regular airlines," Decker declared. "Our pilots and crews are all veteran flyers, two of them having flown the 'hump' in China for the air force."

Last Thursday, Robert I. Lane, manager of the San Carlos Airport, reported that the ownership of the field would merely rent space to the proposed airlines service and that the San Carlos Airport would have no part in the service except to act as landlords.

Roy Patton, one of the owners of the airport, told the Tribune that the plane involved in the Wednesday crash on the field did not belong to the Pacific Coast Airways. Five persons narrowly escaped injury when the Waco crash-landed on its nose after losing its right landing gear in the take-off.

County Personnel Officer Says Employees Don't Have Enough Fun; Organization Too Complex; Surplus Executives

San Mateo County may be top-heavy with executives, its employees don't have enough fun, and its organization is too complex for the amount of work to be done. These are some of the conclusions reached by Owen M. Broyles, personnel officer and secretary to the County Civil Service Commission.

Broyles, who will leave his county position on Oct. 1 to return to his professional duties at San Jose State College, analyzed the county government as an employer in the County Employees' Assn. bulletin issued in July.

He names 11 chief deficiencies, although he believes the county has attractive employments and is a fairly liberal employer.

Uncertain status of a number of employees heads the lists of the county's personnel shortcomings as outlined by the political science professor who pointed out the civil service commission has not yet ruled as to the status of some employees on the payroll prior to Jan. 11, 1943, when civil service became effective. The power of the civil service commission to make exceptions to the County Charter has not been tested, he added.

Deference of the examination program for securing eligible lists has caused one-third of the employees to serve provisionally is another defect, he stated.

The classification plan and the compensation plan are unsatisfactory and need checking, he continued, and there is not enough certainty as to hours of work and how these hours should be distributed between employees in the different positions.

There is not enough attention to working conditions and places of work. Broyles declared in point five, introduction of new employees to their jobs is without formal recognition, and there is not enough check on why employees leave their jobs.

Adequate promotional eligible lists are lacking and the rating of employees on their jobs has been handled too subjectively, he stated. Lack of an organized welfare and recreation program, no credit union.

or arrangements for furnishing legal aid, and failure to provide free physical examinations are pointed out by Broyles.

"There is not enough fun in working for the county," he said.

Too many "figureheads" and too much decentralization of organization may build managerial overhead costs and cut down the amount that might be paid employees necessary to do the work, he continued Broyles explained that data on the relationship between executive and ministerial positions are not available.

Employees' opinions are generally not sought, and they are not invited to participate in forming county administrative policies or programs.

Quality of county personnel is not well measured, he declared in his eleventh point. There is no program for testing the intelligence, aptitude, vocation interest, personality and emotional characteristics of employees.

As a result, the county and employees may not be getting the fullest benefit from the talents and training which are present but not fully used.

Finnell In Second Attack on Risso

Atty. Bush Finnell aimed a second legal affidavit at Fifth Township Justice Gus B. Risso Tuesday this time in an attempt to halt Risso's July paycheck.

In an affidavit filed with County Controller Fred E. Beer today, Finnell asked the judge's paycheck be halted on grounds that Risso failed to render a decision in a small claims case tried on Sept. 17, 1943.

He cited section 109 of the civil code which declares, "No justice of the peace who is paid a salary shall draw or receive any monthly salary unless he shall make and subscribe an affidavit before an officer entitled to administer oaths, that in no cause should a case in his court, which has been submitted for decision for a period of 30 days, remain pending and undecided."

Controller Beer, declaring, "I have no power to do that (hold up the salary)," said he would issue Risso's check if the usual affidavit is sworn to. Beer, however, said he would insist upon an attested affidavit from Risso this month. The justice's statements have not always been notarized in the past, he admitted.

Meanwhile, Grand Jury Foreman Glen O. Smallcomb, declaring he was acting at the request of Finnell, submitted an affidavit asking a grand jury investigation of Risso.

block to the highway. The new link with the highway would make a three-way intersection with Brewster Ave.

At the other end of Hamilton St. Robb proposes that Theater and Hamilton be extended to intersection with Pennsylvania Ave.

so to Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell.

Ferrell today said the matter was up to the grand jury, indicating Finnell's request, signed by Thomas B. Forbes, may not have been too enthusiastically received by the jurors.

The 2-year-old case named by Finnell today was a small claims suit instigated by Frances Gerling against the Highland Cleaners and French Laundry.

In his first affidavit, Finnell cited an eviction suit in which Forbes of Menlo Park sought to remove tenants of his newly-purchased home in Burlingame.

Petition Circulated To Extend Both Ends of Hamilton St.

John M. Robb, 943 Chilton St., Wednesday announced that he will petition the city council to open up Hamilton St. to the Bayshore Hwy. on one end and Pennsylvania Ave. on the other.

"This construction would open Hamilton St. to Bayshore Hwy. skirting the Southern Pacific right of way, on the other.

"The undertaking of these improvements will be less costly now than at any time in the future," Robb believes.

Eventually, he believes, the proposed development will force widening of Pennsylvania Ave.

The petition today bore the signatures of 43 property owners, business people, and others who favor the improvement.

Socialite Critically Injured

Mrs. Daniel C. Jackling, wife of the millionaire copper magnate, was still unconscious at the Palo Alto Hospital Monday following a fall from her horse on the Jackling Woodside estate Saturday at 12:50 p.m., hospital authorities reported.

No one witnessed the accident and details of Mrs. Jackling's condition or injuries could not be obtained from her doctor, Fritz Roth, this afternoon.

Apparently Mrs. Jackling, the former Virginia Jolliffe of San Francisco, was thrown from her horse when it stumbled or tripped on the Mountain Home Rd. estate of the famed copper magnate.

A prominent horsewoman, Mrs. Jackling was found unconscious by an employee of the estate who called an ambulance.

Although her condition was termed "fair" by Dr. Roth, it was reported that Mrs. Jackling had been given a 50-50 chance to live.

San Mateo County Labor News

A vacancy on the executive board of the Central Labor Council was filled this week as Jerry Ratto was opposed to fill the position left by Ed Hansen when he left his trade, losing his seat with the council. Ratto is from the Milk Wagon Drivers' Local 291, and at the same time was accepted with Leonard Teter as council representative from the union.

The executive board has before it for consideration at a meeting tomorrow night, a recommendation from the council that Sheriff James J. McGrath and Dist. Atty. Gilbert Ferrell come before the council to explain their side of the case against them as stated before the 1945 Grand Jury. The resolution was said to be prompted by the composition of the grand jury, which has no representative of labor for the first time in many years.

The council adopted four resolutions which came from the executive committee of the state federation of labor.

1. To endorse the liberalization of War Labor Board rules so that wage increases entailing no consequent price increase be allowed.

2. Endorse the continuance of the Office of Price Administration and its price policies.

3. To concur in a tribute to Franklin D. Roosevelt as "the greatest leader that America has produced."

4. To concur that appraisal of the new line of the Communist party and its portent requires that labor unions combat it and condemn the Communists as a party or association, in any form, and to combat "the sinister movement" both within and without the union.

The council received a letter from AFL Pres. William Green asking that it observe the disposal of federal surplus properties and to report any irregularities or favoritism in sales policy.

A resolution on post-war housing to secure rehabilitation of slum areas, better housing, and FHA rates was sent to a joint committee with the Building Trades Council for further study.

The council decided not to send a special representative to the Los Angeles meeting of the War Labor Board, and concurred in the choice of the San Francisco representative.

Locals of the council announced the following items:

The Machinists Union, Local 1327, has signed a contract with the Matson Air Transportation. It will give a dance in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium Sept. 8, to raise funds for its Christmas packages for men in the service.

Bartenders Local 340 announced that it will admit any veteran of this war into the union without fee upon application to join the union within 90 days after his discharge.

The representative of the Newspaper and Periodical Deliverers, Local 291, has replaced Henry Carlsburg with Broderick S. Avery. Carlsburg had withdrawn from the union.

Building Trades Council has elected its officers and Al J. Czupak is president, A. J. Joy, vice president; A. H. Randall, recording secretary; Carl Lee, financial secretary; L. S. Blanchard, sergeant-at-arms; Charles Seafuse, business manager. Trustees will be E. Brady, J. Crown, T. Rafferty, Bill Killie, W. Olds; the law and legislative board will have Crown, Seafuse, McPharland, Mac Oleson and Olds; organization board will be composed of Czupak, Thomas Price, Crown, Seafuse and T. Gonsales.

He was pilot of a B-17 and wears the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf Clusters, and two battle stars on his campaign ribbon. He also wears the presidential unit citation ribbon.

He is a graduate of Sequoia High School and won his football letter while attending University of Santa Clara. He has a brother, Joseph, an aviation machinist's mate with the navy.

North's service with the transport command has taken him to battle areas throughout the Pacific, and he served on the experimental flight of the giant Mars airship when it made a trial Pacific air run. He was pictured in newsreels of the flight throughout the country.

Redwood City Dairy Curbs Routes; Others Continue

The difficult milk situation for the Peninsula appeared worse today as it was reported to the Tribune that a dairy delivering locally, operating under the name of Your Dairy, gave notice that its scheduled deliveries could not be guaranteed after today, and that day-to-day deliveries would be on a cash basis.

The notice received by Mrs. Vivian Gunderson of Fourth Ave., named only "conditions beyond our control" as reason for the change in service. Other dairies reported that no such drastic move was planned by them.

In San Jose, the manager of Your Dairy declined to comment on the notice. Other dairy managers said there was no reason to believe that they would have to suspend regular deliveries and indicated that the notice by Your Dairy was not due to any general situation that would affect other dairies.

The Peninsula milk supply was reported reduced over last month, in a statement by the federal market agent in San Francisco Saturday, when he reported that the presence of more troops coming and going to the Pacific had reduced the civilian milk supply in this area.

Plans for $20,000 Legion Hall in E.P.A. Progresses 'Nicely', Post 472 Reports

EAST PALO ALTO — Plans to construct a $20,000 hall in East Palo Alto are "progressing nicely," David A. McElhatton, chairman of the building committee of Bell Haven American Legion Post 472, said Tuesday.

"We have been assured that we can start building any time," McElhatton said, referring to the question of obtaining necessary materials.

The building fund of the post now is about $4000 he said, and the committee has set $8000 as the minimum amount necessary to begin the building.

The proposed hall, to be erected on the post's property at University Ave. and Bay Rd., will be a one-story structure 40 by 80 feet. The ground floor is taken up almost entirely by an auditorium hall.

In the basement, in addition to washrooms and locker space, will be a smaller hall, 39 by 50 feet.

This smaller hall, McElhatton said, will be available for use by community organizations and will serve as a meeting place for boy and girl scout troops and similar groups.

The Legion post plans to raise the balance of the money needed for construction by membership subscriptions and a campaign for individual donations by community members.

8-m Smokestack By Jim Asbestos

SNOWBALL TO SLAVERY

A man named Hayek, who lived many years in Europe, has written a book called "The Road to Serfdom."

He says that both Nazism and Fascism were first started by good people to bring a better "plan" of living to the people. Then he shows how such plans invariably become dictatorships. He shows how it could happen here. Here are the usual or possible steps:

1. War forces national "planning."
2. Wartime "planners" want to keep their jobs. They want "planning" to stay.
3. Other politicians want to get in on the planning. They promise everybody anything.
4. Various planners can't agree. Citizens can't agree either. For instance, farmers don't like what factory workers like. And so on.
5. In desperation, the nation gives total power to some "strong man."

Volunteer Port Security Force Asks for 20 Men on Peninsula

The Peninsula Unit of the Volunteer Port Security Force, U. S. Coast Guard Reserve, has appealed for 20 additional men for duty in this area.

"Since the task of the security force is performed by citizen volunteers, we must maintain our unit's strength in order to discharge our duty effectively," declared Lt. (jg) Walter W. Carr, in command of the unit.

Volunteers, on acceptance, are given a short course in special training and drill, including use of the pistol. Complete uniforms are furnished free, as well as meals when on duty, it was explained. Extra gasoline is authorized when needed for travel to and from duty. At the place of duty the Peninsula unit has a barracks, taken over from a detachment of coast guard regulars last October, at which time the barracks were freed for combat duty. The barracks is complete with mess hall, recreation room, bunks and galley where food is prepared by members of the unit.

Among the Redwood City men already enrolled are H. Christensen, C. R. Denny, Simpson Reinhard, G. F. Rouse, E. B. Smith, E. G. Steinnegger, C. E. Ward and H. Waxman.

Members serve two six-hour watches per week. Application blanks and information are available from Carr (RC 4191) or Coxn. Leon L. Strauss, in charge of recruiting and information (RC 2309-M) it was announced.

Edward J. Wheeler Observes 20th Year as S.C. Chief

Police Chief Edward J. Wheeler of San Carlos Wednesday observed his 20th anniversary as head of the department which he organized in 1923.

Chief Wheeler, the first city employee in San Carlos, moved to his present home at 1340 Cherry St., in 1922, and joined the volunteer fire department in which he served as fire chief since 1923.

His 21 years' service as fire chief ended in May, 1944, when he retired from the non-salaried office. When the police department was organized on Aug. 1, 1925, Wheeler was elected chief.

Under his leadership, the police department has grown from the one-man force necessary to safeguard San Carlos' then 600 residents to a staff necessary to police the present day population of more than 7000 persons.

A native of San Francisco where he was born 53 years ago, Chief Wheeler was employed by a large drayage firm before he moved to San Carlos.

Living with him at his home are Mrs. Wheeler, their daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Allman, a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edward A. Wheeler, and a grandson, Edward J. Wheeler II. The Wheelers' son is currently serving with the navy Seabees in the Pacific.

Chief Wheeler is an active member of the Lion's Club, San Carlos Masonic Club, and Free and Accepted Masonic Lodge 168 in Redwood City.

Lt. Col. John Marcroft Gets New Assignment

Lt. Col. John C. Marcroft, 49 Jeter St., has been assigned to the South Atlantic division office of the engineering corps, the army announced Monday. Colonel Marcroft commanded the port of entry at Whittier, Alas., until December, 1944. He has since attended the General Staff School in Kansas.

Colonel Marcroft has held a reserve commission since 1927. He entered active duty in November, 1940, with the rank of captain. He also served with the coast artillery at Ft. Scott.

South Atlantic division engineers will be employed in army construction in the southeastern states, procuring engineer troop equipment, and will be responsible for river, harbor and flood control work in those states.

Mrs. Marcroft lives with their two sons and a daughter in Redwood City.

Sgt. Richard Dimick At Santa Ana Base
After 37 combat missions overseas and a 30-day furlough, S/Sgt. Richard D. Dimick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dimick of 229 Hillview Ave., is currently assigned to the Army Air Forces distribution center at Santa Ana, an AAF release disclosed.

Dimick, a B-17 gunner of the Eighth AAF, entered the service in January, 1944, and went to England in November, 1944. He has been awarded the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf Clusters and one battle star on the European Theater ribbon for participation in major operations over Germany.

Sergeant Dimick's father is a physical education instructor at Sequoia High School. The 20-year-old gunner is a graduate of the Oregon City High School, Ore. His brother, Lt. Harold Dimick, is stationed at Carlsbad, N. M., and another brother, Gale, will enter Sequoia this fall.

Sgt. William D. Cardwell Gets Bronze Star
S/Sgt. William G. Cardwell, 932 Middlefield Rd., has been awarded the Bronze Star in Italy, the Fifth Army has announced. Cardwell, formerly with the National Park Service in Yosemite, is serving with the 87th Mountain Division, 10th Mountain Division.

He was cited for heroic achievement while leading a column of mountain infantrymen in Italy. An enemy plane bombed the column and men were injured and the entire group disorganized. Cardwell ordered his jeep driver to move the vehicle down the road while he walked along beside it, defying the machinegun and sniper fire. Following his example, the men fell back into line and proceeded to their mission.

Sergeant Cardwell entered military service in September, 1942. He is the son of Ernest Cardwell, 923 Middlefield Rd.

Plans Complete in Campaign For Wastepaper, Scrap Tin

Final plans for the citywide paper and tin drive this weekend were formulated at a meeting of the YMCA committeemen who are also members of the Redwood City Kiwanis Club, which is sponsoring the drive, Frank DePatta, city salvage chairman reported.

Members of the committee are James Thomas, Clarence Dossie, Andrew Spinas, A. C. Argo, Bert Werder, Elmer Morrish, A. H. Sagehorn and DePatta.

The salvage chairman reported that the committee is urging all persons who have transportation to bring their waste paper and scrap tin directly to gondola cars adjoining the Southern Pacific freight office rather than having the bundles handled twice.

However, persons who are unable to transport their salvaged paper or tin are directed to place the waste materials on the curbstone in front of their house or bring them to the nearest service station Saturday and Sunday.

Trucks, manned by members of the Kiwanis Club, will tour the city over the weekend to collect the scrap tin and paper, DePatta said. Persons who have unusually large collections of the material may call DePatta at Redwood City 201 to Kiwanians gather the scrap directly from their store rooms.

He also has the Purple Heart with an Oak Leaf Cluster, and the Good Conduct Medal.

His wife, Mrs. Marjorie Shaefer, lives at the Redwood City address.

John C. Lopez In Longest Thrust

John C. Lopez, son of Juan C. Rodriguez, 436 Chestnut St., participated in the longest inland water thrust of the Philippines campaign to drive Japs from the heart of the Philippines, it was announced Tuesday.

Lopez and men of the 31st Division were carried 80 miles up the twisting Agusan River. In less than two weeks 100 Japs had been killed to clear the Mindanao swamps of Japanese troops. Filipino guerrillas joined the Yanks and tons of supplies were hauled by barges and unloaded by hand.

It is inevitable that our losses in the Pacific will go up as we swing heavier blows at Japan—Assistant Secretary of War John J. McCloy.
